

The Pied Piper of Hamelin

Hamelin is an old town.

Rats live under the houses.

The people of Hamelin do not like rats.

One day a man comes to Hamelin, a piper.

He plays his pipe, and the rats listen.

The rats follow him.

They jump into the river.

The piper wants his money.

The people say, "No. Go away!"

The piper plays his pipe, and the children listen.

The piper goes into the mountain, and the children follow him.

It is very quiet in Hamelin now.